Any pedagogical work, regardless of form, using Suzuki copyrighted material or the Suzuki trademarks which is approved by the ISA for use as part of the Suzuki® Method™ of musical education or training must first be offered to Alfred Publishing or its successors for publication pursuant to an Agreement between Dr. Suzuki and Alfred Publisher’s predecessors.

ISA Publication Principles

Publications may be considered for approval by ISA if the following criteria are deemed to be met in the sole discretion of the board of directors of ISA or their designated representatives:

- The publication fills a need that is not met or likely to be met by the ISA or the regional associations.
- The publication conveys or accurately supports Dr. Shinichi Suzuki’s philosophy and ideas.
- The authors are active members of their Regional Suzuki Associations and members of ISA.

Re Presentation:

- The publication materials are organized, formatted and written according to the satisfaction and approval of ISA in its sole discretion.
- The publication materials are original or properly footnoted and credited if not original, with written permissions from the author or copyright owner of any non original material.
- If historical or biographical, the material is accurate and documented.
- The publication materials must be clearly written to represent a single point of view, e.g., the author's approach to teaching and performing.
- The author warrants that the publication materials do not infringe any third party copyrights or trademarks.

Contingencies:

- If the proposed material or publication deals with the core Suzuki Method materials created and arranged by Dr. Suzuki, the work must adhere to the following guidelines:
- As the sequence of repertoire in the Suzuki core materials of such works, as well as pieces written by Dr. Suzuki are copyrighted, musical examples must be limited to a maximum of 4 consecutive measures for each individual work. In addition, for the case of works written by Dr. Suzuki, including measures edited with fingering and bowings, musical examples may be quoted, but shall be limited to a total of 4 measures from any one work.
- The following disclaimer must appear at the beginning of each volume in the language of the printed book:

“This work represents the view of its author, and does not necessarily represent the view of the International Suzuki Association or its regional associations. These materials are not intended to replace authorized Suzuki® Method™ teacher training, study with a qualified Suzuki teacher, or Suzuki® Method™ core material, print or recorded.”
- Publications will be considered for review and approval upon payment of a one-time review fee of $500 to be paid to the ISA.
- If the above, criteria are met, permission for the use of the Suzuki name, trademarks and/or use of ISA/Suzuki copyrighted materials may be granted in ISA's sole discretion for a period of ___ years or ___ number of copies as agreed between the author or ISA by a written license agreement at a royalty rate of 8% of the retail prices of the licensed materials.
